During this convention Columbus occupies the center of the stage in the most unique chain of public concourses in the history of the world. It will be the center of the world's biggest hookup of radio stations. Yes, but when the great meetings here are a thing of the past and the speakers are homeward bound, they will continue their didresses at other great conventions held on immediately succeding days at Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C. Ma when we thus envision ten conventions all in one in the United States; we see but a part of the picture, for at the same time that the nine Columbus extension onventions are taking place in the United States, there are twenty-nine Columbus extension conventions taking place in Canada, seven taking place in Mexico, eight taking place in the West Ind'es and South America, eight taking place in Africa, seven taking place in Hawaii and eighty-eight taking place in Europe. And thus the Co-ubus convention extends all over the world, one hun-dights convention extends all over the world, one hun-ted and sixty-six conventions all in one.

What We See at Columbus Itself

What we see at Columbus itself we can easily record. What we see at Columbus itself we can easily record. The special trains began to come in on Wednesday morn-ing, July 22, with the convention staff on the first one, 100 workers all together, the vanguard from the Bethel, needed in starting off the various departments, of which The Messenger is but one. The train arrived at Columbus at eight o'clock in the morning. By nine o'clock some of the workers were at their appointed tasks, and by ten o'clock meals were being served in the big dining room, for those who wanted them, and have been regularly served ever since. The second special from Brooklyn came in Friday morn-ing: other trains came in through the day, over all rail-

The second special from Brooklyn came in Friday morn-ing; other trains came in through the day, over all rail-ways, from North, South, East and West. Some automo-bilists arrived on the grounds by July 20, and by Wednesday night probably fifty house-cars and trailers had made their appearance and found their park-ing places. Since then the number has here added to in every daylight hour and been added to in every daylight hour and been added to in every daylight hour and even into the night. Since the first of June the friends at Columbus have been busy making ar-rangements to provide rooms for those who would come. By Thursday night they had made some six thousand as-signments, and the number is being manidly increased rapidly increased. The Most Important Convention Ever Judge Rutherford has been thinking of this convention and planning for it since last December. We know that, for it was about that time that the first committees were appointed, those that should investigate the various grounds that could be obtained and present recom-mendations as to which should be en-gaged, and why they would be the best for the purpose. At length it was decided that the con-vention would be held in Columbus. In many respects this is an ideal location. For one thing, the Coliseum is a good place for a big meeting. It will accommo-date an audience of close to ten thousand people, and while a great auditorium is not so necessary as it was before the days of the radio, yet there are many people who like to see as well as hear a people who like to see as went as hear a speaker when he gives a great address, one in which they are vitally interested. And then the Ohio State Fair Grounds are admirable grounds for what might be called the physical setting of a big convention. There are ample buildings for the meetings that will be held in for-eign tongues, and other buildings in

The Honorable George White, Governor of State of Ohio, Welcomes Convention

THE GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS

Seven thousand conventioners greeted the governor of Ohio as he came upon the platform of the Watch Tower Convention, with the chairman of the convention, Anton Koerber.

Victor Schmidt opened the session with these words: "Jehovah has again assembled his people to swell his praise. Governor White will give the opening address of the convention."

As Governor White stepped forward he was greeted heartily with applause. The high points of his address

I wish you pleas-ant area or; I have opened it from the weather man I am very glad to welcome a class of people who do not need any policemen: I have not hired any extra force; you do not need it not need it.

not need it. Prior to the Wall Street crash the country gave too much attention to material things; at this time our minds should be turned to the more serious phases of life. The only solution to the problems of the world is that the minds of the people should be taken off the more material things and placed upon the enduring and eternal things. Recently I have thought a great deal about how the Pilgrims worshiped God and thanked him, and I think that this must be our attitude if we are to perpetuate our inheritance as a nation.

that this must be our attitude if we are to perpetuate our inheritance as a nation. I am very much pleased to have this people assemble in this community at this time; I realize that your mission here is a good one and that the things you will leave be-hind you are good things that will benefit the people. The address of the governor was well received by the conventioners and he was roundly applauded as he took his seat.

He was followed by Anton Koerber, chairman of the convention.

THE CHAIRMAN'S REPLY

Jehovah the King Eternal has made it

Jehovah the King Eternal has made it possible for his people to assemble here in the greatest convention ever held on earth. We come in his name and to him we give all praise and honor and glory. Governor White, and the good people of Ohio, it is with pleasure I acknowledge your greetings of welcome in behalf of Judge Rutherford, president of The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and its delegates from various parts of the earth assembled here in convention. the earth assembled here in convention.

We recall the kindness accorded us during our convention here in 1924, which added to the joy of our return. Many improvements have been made in the state. Your fine transportation facilities and good roads throughout the state made our trip to Columbus one of delight. I was favorably impressed with the natural resources and high state of agricultural development of Ohio. The diversified scenery, to one traveling through the state, is a real treat. Its great lake, large rivers, beautiful mountains, and broad fields, are real cause for gratitude to the great Creator who made all these things in love for his creatures. creatures. What a wonderful Creator we have! He has dealt bountifully in providing for man, and Ohio has shared well in its portion. The whole land is fast becoming veritable paradise. If man could but enjoy it forever in If man could but enjoy it forever in good health, at peace with God and his iellow man, his life would be complete. It is Jehovah's purpose he shall have that blessed opportunity. Men and women have longed for that time, and we are (Continued on page 2, Col. 3)

This entire building is given over to Judge Rutherford and his staff. The general oversight of everything that goes on at the convention will be centered at The Ohio House.

Just back of The Ohio House, to the northeast of it, is the Administration Building. It is just what its name im-plies. It is here that the chairman and the assistant chairman of the convention have their offices. Here is the cashier, the director of instrumental music and of vocal music, and a headquarters for the reportorial staff of The Messenger.

North of the Administration Building North of the Administration Building is the Coliseum, which houses the In-formation Bureau, subscription offices of The Messenger, and the various sub-divisions of the Service and Colporteur Departments, which, in this convention, is one of its greatest features. Here you will find too, the Post Office, Telegraph, writing tables rooming assignment and writing tables, rooming assignment, and other conveniences for the friends.

To the west of the Coliseum is the Restaurant and Book Room. The Res-taurant is really thirteen cafeterias in one. Each one of the thirteen sections is complete in itself, equipped with eight waiters, who minister to the needs of the hungry. There are sixty people in the kitchen. It is estimated that at the thirteen counters and upon the 200 tables in this great room four thousand people can be accommodated at one sitting. At one end of the great dining room there were piled on Friday morning thousands of paper bags each of which contains Judge Rutherford's books and booklets. These books and booklets are now printed in forty-eight languages. Many of these tongues are represented in the literature now about to be placed in Columbus and vicinity, but, of course, as Columbus and vicinity have no great foreign population there is less need for some of the tongues here than there would be in a place like Paris, where one of our great conventions was hold be of our great conventions was held less than two months ago. All parts of Ohio that can be reached by automobile in a day will be covered by these workers. We shall have more de-tails about this later.

Up stairs, over the Book Room, is the sign painting department, and ere, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday four expert sign painters were making all kinds of signs such as would be needed to minister to the comfort of ten thou-sand guests, each of whom will wish to know where to go, and many of whom would be sure to go into some places they ought not to go unless carefully steered in the right direction. Around to the south of The Ohio House, Building No. 2 will accommodate Russian sessions of the convention, No. 4, the Greek sessions of the convention, and No. 5, the Italian sessions. The re-hearsals of music, and especially for the chain programs, are had in a portion of the structure that houses the Greek sessions

Building No. 29 accommodates the Polish sections of the convention, No. 41, the Hungarian and Luthuanian sections (Hungarian in the main part of the structure and Lithuanian in the al-cove), and Building No. 43, of rustic de-sign, almost in front of the Ohio House,

You sometimes have company at your house, don't you? And if there are to be lots of guests, there is plenty of ex-citement long before the guests arrive. There has to be. Now suppose there are to be a dozen guests. That would be quite a houseful. It would be necessary to make some unusual provisions if the to make some unusual provisions, if the guests were to run to twenty-five, fifty or a hundred.

But suppose there were to be a thou-sand guests; the work would be multi-plied tenfold; and if there were to be ten thousand (and it is anticipated that there will be that many or more at Co-lumbus) the responsibility is still greater and provision must be made long ahead, looking to every possible contingency.

"All ashore that are going ashore." The deck steward gave his last call for all visitors to get off the boat; the gang planks were lowered and at 12:01 a. m. Saturday, May 9, the great ship began to slowly move away from the pier. The deep, bass, steam whistle gave a long blast as a parting notice to the city of New York that the SS. Rotterdam was once more leaving for Europe. This time she carried Judge Rutherford and his small party of assistants to attend the Watch Tower conventions in Paris, Ber-lin Conephagen and London

Watch Tower conventions in Paris, Ber-lin, Copenhagen and London. Life aboard the ship was a very happy one for our little party. Each morning Brother Rutherford invited us to have a study on one of the articles on Mor-decai and Esther which had just started to come out in The Watch Tower. Every esson left us on "pins and needles" of an-ticipation and expectation for the next esson left us on "pins and needles" of an-ticipation and expectation for the next morning's study. If the trip had been limited to those morning studies, it would have been blessing enough, but the Lord had even more in store for us. During one of these meetings, Brother Rutherford, by way of illustrating how the Haman class was conspiring against the Mordecai and Esther class, told us about a letter he had received from Gerthe Mordecai and Esther class, told us about a letter he had received from Ger-many before leaving Brooklyn. This let-ter threatened him with arrest and im-prisonment if he addressed the public and spoke against the clergy while in Germany. It so happened that a big public meeting was being arranged as one of the features of the Berlin con-vention. In spite of the letter he sent instructions to the Magdeburg office to go ahead with their preparations for the go ahead with their preparations for the public meeting. Further than this he did not tell us what he was going to say or do. You can imagine the interest this gave us in the Esther articles as we learned how Haman plotted against Mor-decai and the Jews and what happened to him. What would happen in Berlin? That was the question in our minds. The trip across the ocean was a very delightful one. On Sunday, May 17, we arrived at Plymouth, where a party of friende are the total number to come from England

Each worker was furnished addressed the public in Paris, that the meeting was broken up by a crowd of people who caused such a disturbance people who caused such a disturbance that those who wanted to hear could not. This time there was absolutely no disor-der. The people came in in a very orderly manner, and never had our party seen a more interested and attentive audience than this one. They eagerly drank in the water of truth as it flowed to them from God's Word, and thirsted for more. We knew that this was true, for after the God's Word, and thirsted for more. We knew that this was true, for after the lecture, we watched the crowd come out of the auditorium carrying the books and "parlezvousing" over the good things they had heard. The report showed that 900 books and booklets were taken away by the public at that meeting. Tuesday was service day. Bright and early the friends met at the hall to go out into the work. It was a real prob-lem to take care of so many people who could not speak or understand a word of French, but it was done. Four breth-ren were on the platform to give instruc-tions to the workers in four different languages. Various captains were given numbers, which they had attached to long sticks to hold them high above the heads of the people. Each worker was as-signed to one of these numbers, and as the captain's number was called out from the platform he came forward so that all the workers assigned to him could follow him out of the auditorium. Each group had a couple of interpreters to aid the captain in placing his workers. Some parties went to their territory in big sight-seeing busses, which had been engaged for that purpose and which waited outside of the hall. Others who were assigned near-by territory went by trolley, taxi, or on foot. Practically 100 percent of those at the convention at that time engaged in the service. During that one morning of service the work that one morning of service. During placed 1,329 books and 14,557 booklets, making a grand total of 16,776 books and booklets placed in Paris during the entire convention, public meeting included.

"How was this possible when you couldn't understand or speak the lan-guage?" you ask. Well, you see, it was with a card which contained a short witness and the price of the books. We took this in our hand, knocked on the door, ended in their reading the card, if they had not already done so, and, as the total figures show, in many of them tak-ing the literature. One brother told of a taxi driver he canvassed for the last two heaklats he had. He understood the a taxi driver he canvassed for the last two booklets he had. He understood the man to say, "No Bible," after he had read the card. To this the brother replied with gestures, "Oh 'messier,' Judge Rutherford, Salle Playel (this being the name of the hall), American, radio, 200 stations." The man looked at him in wonderment, repeated to himself what he had heard, reached in his pocket for his money and took the booklets. Everybody had a happy time in giving Paris this witness. Besides that which has already been mentioned, Brother Rutherford spoke over the radio, his lec-ture in English being broadcast by sta-tion VITUS. It was followed by a trans-lation into Two the trans-

The managers of the station greeted Brother Rutherford most cordially. The convention officially opened that afternoon with an address by Brother Rutherford. All of us were surprised at the large attendance at this first meet-ing. We had rather anticipated that this convention might not be so large, because of the hard time through which the German people have been passing, but when we came into the great Spor Palace, we beheld a crowd of fully 8,000 people there. Sunday's meetings were attended by an even larger crowd. conservative estimate of the number to attend the convention would be 10,000 brethren. In his address Saturday, Brother Rutherford made no mention of the threatening letter he had received, but greatly encouraged the brethren to go out into the service the next morning. He called for a show of hands of all those who expected to do this, and it was thrilling to see every hand go up. That the brethren actually did this was shown by the service reports which were received from 8,000 workers.

What a witness that crowd of 8,000 left in the city of Berlin during Sunday and Monday, the days set aside for serv-ice! Not only did they leave the books and booklets with the people, but they also personally invited thousands to at-tend the public meeting on Monday night. We were amazed at the final service re-met which chewed that 146 505 hocks port, which showed that 146,505 books and booklets were disposed of during the convention, public meeting included.

On Sunday afternoon the workers returned from the field to hear another some remedy. His first thrust at the most encouraging discourse by Brother hypocrisy of the clergy was not so Rutherford. On his way to this meeting pointed, his next was a little sharper, meeting and the time for seeing whether or not the Devil's organization would at-tempt to make good its threat, finally tempt to make good its threat, finally arrived. As we came into the hall a brother informed us that some members of the Nationalist party had attempted to put up their banners but that these had been taken down by the brethren. This in itself looked as if the trouble-makers were there at least. The great makers were there, at least. The great hall was packed with people. Every seat was taken and many were standing. Another adjacent hall, connected with loud speakers, was also filled, making a total attendance of 16,000 or more. Some estimated the crowd at 17,000. The friends, a large number of whom had re-The friends, a large number of whom had re-turned home so as to make room for the public, took the seats to the rear of the speakers' platform and in the bal-conies, leaving the best seats on the main floor for the public. the platform a tremendous applause greeted him, which must have put fear into the hearts of the trouble-makers. From the very first the people eagerly leaned forward in their seats and closely followed the interpreter's translation of everything that Brother Rutherford said. Instead of detracting from the in-terest, this sentence-by-sentence translation enabled the people to grasp the full significance of each word. Brother Rutherford opened with a general sur-vey of world conditions and the need for

While waiting in front of his hotel for his car to come, in his usual friendly manner he spoke to the hotel doorman, mentioning that he was a tall, handsome fellow. With tears in his eyes, the man replied, "There are not many big men like you and me left in Germany." This gave Brother Rutherford the opportunity to speak a word of comfort to him, and later a little incident occurred which illus- and his next still sharper as he developed his argument showing what the Devil's organization actually is and how it is working against the Lord and his anointed and endeavoring to keep the truth away from the people. Our eyes swept back and forth over that vast audience for the first signs of disorder, but instead of disorder, from the section reserved for the public as well as every corner of the hell came an overwhelming deafenthe hall, came an overwhelming, deafen-ing applause and many shouted out their indignation and their shame upon the clergy and conspirators. The audience was with him and against the conspirawas with him and against the conspira-tors. In a clear and logical manner the judge proceeded to tell them what was the only remedy, and the meeting ended with no disorder or attempted arrests. The public showed their interest by taking away with them nearly 12,000 books and booklets. Another great convention came to an end and the friends went

Our party met together again in Lon-don, just in time for the opening of the London convention, which was held at Alexandra Palace. This hall is an im-mense structure located in a beautiful mense structure located in a beautiful spot, high on the top of a hill from which an excellent view can be had of the city of London for miles around. It is surrounded with a lovely park filled with beautiful trees. The grass is lux-uriant and there were no "keep off the grass" signs to keep the conventioners from sitting under the trees between meetings. The building itself has many different halls in it. The largest one known as the Great Hall, is so large that the Alexandra officials told us bethat the Alexandra officials told us before the public meeting that no speaker had ever been able to attract enough to fill it. The convention meetings were held in one of the smaller halls, which com-fortably seated the 3,500 brethren who attended.

The weather was fine and the brethren never manifested a better spirit. The long-tail coats, black ties and more or less ecclesiastical formalism which used to be in evidence had entirely disap-peared. With hearty enthusiasm the brethren greeted Brother Rutherford's talk on the 54th chapter of Isaiah, par-

Again, on Sunday morning, they went into the work, this time in the city of Copenhagen. As a result of this witness 2,816 books and booklets were left with the people. All day enjoyed more; and we felt the same way Saturday they spent out in the country about it, too, for a spirit prevailed which about it, too, for a spirit prevailed which warmed the hearts of everyone. Brother Rutherford told us afterward that he believed the brethren there were ready to go right down the line for the Lord and his Kingdom. As much as we enjoyed this meeting, we had another treat in store for us; for his next discourse was on the 9th chapter of Ezekiel, the subject being "The Man with the Writer's Inkhorn." (It amused us to hear one brother who spoke with a broad, cockney accent call it "The Man with the Writer's Hink some were so enthusiastic that, in ac-cordance with the British custom, they stamped their feet, clapped their hands, and one or two called out "'ear! 'ear!" That talk will long be remembered by those who heard it. At its conclusion the friends were so encouraged by the in-creasing light on God's Word of truth that they were more anxious than ever to do their part in showing forth the praises of Jehovah. To tell about the London convention and not mention the field service would be omitting one of the biggest things; for the brethren came to work, and they did work. Practically all went into the work during the two service days, and as a result left 10,105 books and booklets in the hands of the people. This figure included the number placed at the public meeting.

And now to tell you about the public And now to tell you about the public meeting. The Great Hall was packed to the overflow, fully 10,000 being there. Some were standing in the rear and others were turned away. Amplifiers carried Brother Rutherford's voice to all parts of the auditorium. Again in a fearless and logical manner he laid the plain fract hofore the meenle for them to plain facts before the people for them to accept or reject. He reminded them of public statements made by their leading clergymen which showed that they did not believe in the Bible and therefore could not be the Lord's representatives, but in truth and in fact were agents of the Devil. He told them that he was not there to get the favor of any man, but to tell them the truth. It was for them to "take it or leave it."

It was truly a wonderful meeting, and, taken in conjunction with the other meetings, the friends went away with the feeling that the convention was the best ever held in England.

Another week was spent in London following the convention, to take care of the many things which had to be done. On Sunday evening Brother Ruther-ford gave a farewell talk to the brethren in the London Tabernacle and on Tuesday, June 23, we left for home. When the subject was announced some were so enthusiastic that, in ac-cordance with the British custom, they ment of that part of Germany's debt to the United States due on July 1, having to be taken off on account of the mora-torium. But this delay in getting started was offset by the courteous treatment which we received while on board the ship. It pleased us to see how the officers and crew showed their apprecia-tion of having the judge return home on their ship. When we went around to engage a table in the dining room, we to engage a table in the dining room, we found that they had already reserved one in the choicest location to the im-mediate right of the captain's table. When we spoke to the deck steward about a couple of deck chairs, he told us that he was "holding them for Judge Rutherford in the 'Ambassador's cor-ner.'" Another evening the captain himself invited Brother Rutherford to visit him in his private quarters and to visit him in his private quarters and to bring his entire party with him. Only one other passenger on board was asked to attend. After this visit he requested Brother Rutherford to sign a private book which he kept for distinguished passengers. Many well-known men of the world had placed their signatures therein, but none were able to leave with their signatures such words of comfort and real good cheer as those which Brother Rutherford affixed. This was Brother Rutherford amxed. This was greatly appreciated by the captain, for he in turn presented Brother Rutherford with an autographed copy of a beautiful book of views of the ship. We found that all of Brother Rutherford's books were in the ship's library for the passengers to read. All these courtesies on the second fast-

"All men have not faith," and there is no use in expecting men to exercise faith when they do not have it. At the present time there is only a handful of people in the world who really know that the Bible is the Word of God. Since the Bible is the Word of God, then we may depend upon it that it was especially written for us who are living just now, when Satan's organization is slipping down into the abyss from which it will down into the abyss from which it will never arise.

For years after he emerged from prison, Judge Rutherford went to San Diego to work during the winter months, Diego to work during the winter months, renting such quarters as could be se-cured. His physician, Dr. A. G. Eckols, of San Diego, urged him to make the city his permanent winter home; and in the latter part of the year 1929 some brethren, out of their own personal funds, arranged for the erection of Beth-Sarim, "the house of the princes," of which sev-eral illustrations appear in this issue. Before Judge Rutherford would ac-cept and use the home, he insisted upon writing the deed that it shall forever be held in trust by the Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society for the use of the Lord's (Continued on page 8)

The Witness Work in Argentina

Argentina is a vast country, about equal in area to all the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states of the United and Pacific Coast states of the United States. Today it occupies much the same relation to the rest of the world that was occupied by the United States seventy-five years ago. You think of the United States as having many residents of foreign birth, but in proportion to our population we have twice as many foreigners here as you have there. Thus, the foreign-born population of the United States is given as 13 per cent, while the foreign-born population of the United States is given as 13 per cent, while the foreign-born population here is 25 per cent. Yet, although Argentina is a young country as respects the immigration period through which she is passing, she is an old country otherwise. The Unit is an old country otherwise. The Uni-versity of Cordoba, in Argentina, was founded in 1613, seven years before the "Pilgrim Fathers" landed at Plymouth.

"Pilgrim Fathers" landed at Plymouth. Immigration into Argentina has come principally from Spain and Italy, though there are also many Germans among our new citizens. The state contributes about $1,000,000 in gold every year to the support of the Roman Catholic re-ligion, but other religions are tolerated. The constitution requires that the presi-dent must be a Roman Catholic. We have a good deal of illiteracy to dent must be a Roman Catholic. We have a good deal of illiteracy to contend with, except among the German and British immigrants. Thus 31 per cent of our Austro-Hungarian immi-grants are illiterate, 30½ per cent of the Spanish immigrants, 28½ per cent of the Italian and 17 per cent of the French. Among the German immigrants all but 9

Among the German immigrants all but 9 per cent can read and write, and among the English imigrants all but 8 per cent. In the country the farms are of vast size, averaging some 500 acres each, as would be expected in a land largely given over to stock raising and wheat growing. The great distances, poor roads, general lack of education, and pre-ponderating influence of Roman Catholi-cism make it difficult to work the coun-try districts yet, but some progress is being made. being made.

This is a great city, one of the great cities of the world. We are doing something, but we need help. Pray for us and send us men and women of courage to help us women of courage to help us. At the time this is written we are in the midst of our winter, so things are quite different with us from what they are with you. We are differently situated otherwise than as respects the weather. Yours is a rich country, while at this time Argentina is very, very poor. We work under great difficulties. Our work began in 1924, with only one brother. Early in 1925, at his request, the Society's president sent in two able the Society's president sent in two able colporteurs speaking the German language to work among the immigrants from Germany. These brethren were and are to this day good samples of fidelity to the Lord and his cause. We keep no regular office staff. Of the two brothers with me, one, the German brother, works during the day as a tile setter, when he has a job, and thus pays his room rent and expenses. When he has no work he goes on with his canvass-ing. The other, Pedro Kasanowski, has a knowledge of the three languages Polish, Ukrainian and Russian. He also works during the day when work is to be ob-tained, and at other times canvasses among the Poles, Ukrainians and Russians. Nevertheless, we have now seventy friends who are taking a more or less active part in the witness work or less active part in the witness work, the work which we consider most im-portant. The cities of Men-doza and San Juan, with the provinces of the same name, are represented by Brothers Maximo Gimpel and Ramon Mercado, the first German, the latter Argentinian.

Little or no witnessing was done in these coun-tries prior to this year, and it is mar-velous to see how the message of the Kingdom is being received, not only by the natives, but also by many Europeans who make their sojourn in these islands. On the part of Judge Rutherford, the dedication of this home to God's work and for the use of these men was a simple act of faith. To a few news-paper men this exhibition of true faith in God and in his Word has seemed to give occasion for a little display of semi-mirthful incredulity; but for the most part the newspapers have treated the item with dignity, and the story of Beth-Sarim has gone around the world, con-veying to millions of people the thought that shortly David and others will no

Yesterday We Took You to America and Australia; Today We Jump Over to Europe. All Aboard!

The Witness Work In Austria

By Walter Voight

Walter Voight, Resident Manager.

According to the Treaty of Versailles in 1919, Austria has become a small country of hardly six million inhabitants. The former monarchy had fifty million inhabitants!

In Austria 94.4 per cent of the population is Catholic. It was about ten years ago when the Society opened an office in Austria to spread the Truth in this land and to give a witness to the honor of the name of Jehovah in this dark country, where the clergy keep particularly the country people in darkness. At that time a few classes were organized which have now increased to 22 in number.

The brethren are very joyful and zeal-ous and have distributed since 1924 one million books and booklets, most of them during the last few years. Aside from this, a large number of Golden Age copies and several million tracts and leaflets were put in the hands of the people. We are receiving 6,000 copies of The Golden Age of each issue for Austria.

Some years ago the Society wanted to be registered in Austria, but the Catholic esterday We Took You to Visit the Brethren in South

Like other countries of Europe, the priests and preachers are the bitterest opponents of our work. They resort to lying, false witnessing, instigating ar-rests, and even mobbing to disturb our work and keep the people from getting the truth.

In Vienna itself we have the greatest liberty. We called upon the chief of the city police and he told us that the law is on our side and that we should only call upon him in difficulties. Every case in Vienna has been decided in our favor.

Vienna has been decided in our favor. In some sections where the brethren were held up by the police and were haled before the authorities, the brethren were asked if our literature reaches those who have left the Catholic church. We answered, YES; and were told, "That's good; now we will make a re-neat which will make these dark men port which will make these dark men mad." (The Catholic men in office are called the "dark" or "black" men by the people!)

Recently we used films and slides to illustrate our public lectures in many Austrian cities. The Devil tried to cause Austrian cities. The Devil tried to cause difficulties. When we had finished the preparations at a certain city, a decision of the authorities was handed to us that we could not give our illustrated lecture in that place, and other places where we had in preparing for this exhibition. Then the decision was withdrawn, and people who became interested through the Photo-Drama have now begun to canvass with the books at several places. The greatest difficulty with the au-thorities was encountered in Lienz, a city of 6,000 inhabitants, the capital of East-Tyrol.

The Bethel Family at Vienna.

The owner of the moving picture house, apparently at the behest of the clergy, had destroyed his own picture machine, although he was obliged by a contract to Golden Age of each hold One can see that in Austria every family has one book or one booklet by Judge Rutherford. This great work was done by a comparatively small army of faith-ful soldiers of the Lord. As the joy of the brethren has in-creased, the rage of the Devil has in-creased also; but his wrath is in vain. Jehovah has separated his people for his name and he knows how to preserve them.

By these happenings the brethren have been encouraged to spread the Truth with more zeal and energy than ever before. ever before.

In Austria there are now 22 classes, with about 600 class attendants, of which 233 are regular workers. It is a joy to see the courage and the devotion of the brethren. We trust in the Lord that the opportunities for the witness work in this country will be still more favorable in the future.

The Witness Work in Belgium

By J. Knecht

In Belgium, as in other countries, some who had not received the love of the Truth were sifted out, especially during the years from 1918 to 1925, and now there remains a faithful remnant. Jehovah needs no one. He does not even need Belgian brethren to carry on the work here. Others have replaced the unwork, and these are working in unity with the remnant here.

We now have ten pioneers, and others are about to enter the work. It is a real

As well as the sister knew the language, she said smilingly: "I am not afraid of you or of the police." Then the priest began to sweat for rage. The mayor of Namur told the Swiss mioneers that they could not work there:

pioneers that they could not work there; but since his prohibition and a warning in the newspaper they are working with increased joy, because there is no law which can prevent their work.

Three auxiliary colporteurs between 60 and 70 years of age are working here, and one of them goes to the market at Liège. This market is visited by many people and is very interesting. Our worker calls out the literature in 25 dif-ferent languages. Many foreigners. ferent languages. Many foreigners, whom we could not find otherwise, come and buy. His success is wonderful.

In the industrial sections of Belgium it is necessary to keep on hand books in 29 different languages. There are now three new Polish classes.

Belgium is wholly Catholic. The power and influence are in the hands of the clergy and they are responsible for the fact that a large part of the population can neither read nor write, but it is time to call out DELIVERANCE and many hear the message.

During the last two years the work in Belgium has increased much. The outwork here. Others have replaced the un-faithful. English, Swiss, Polish and French pioneers have come to do the work, and these are working in unity was overtopped by 10,500 books and was over booklets.

The Witness Work in Brazil

By D. D. Neves

As you may know we are under a revolutionary government. In the be-ginning the people hoped that things would be better soon; but now we see the people continuing in their afflictions. There is a great crisis throughout the country. There is no remedy except the Lord's kingdom, and this is at hand.

D. D. Neves, Resident Manager.

Our great privilege is to notify the peo-ple about the Lord's remedy. The con-dition of the country does not permit the placing of many pieces of literature; al-most all pieces of literature we place are booklets. We have seven classes, but not all are organized for service. Four clases are witnessing from door to door, but not all members of these classes. However, in all classes we have some members work-ing with the literature. Here in S. Paulo city we have two classes, Portuguese-speaking people are one class; the other are of Hungarian-speaking people; and both classes have workers in the service A German class in Curityba is active in the witness with literature. Two classes in Rio de Janeiro have some members doing good service with the books. We hope henceforth to have all classes organized for service.

We have actually about thirty class workers every Sunday in the field. All interested ones are invited to go out in interested ones are invited to go out in the service. Our-purpose is to prepare classes only for service. Some are new in the service. Others find the service very difficult. Others are entering in. God is blessing all his servants who are confessing his name and glory to the people. The result is some become in-terested in the Truth terested in the Truth.

Two thousand handbills are distributed Two thousand handbills are distributed every week, inviting the people to the public lectures every Sunday. Some newspapers also invite the people and give reports of the lectures. For the first time in Brazil a reporter came to the Society's representative, asking in-formation about our service in the world, and our doctrines. All information re-quested was given and the newspaper quested was given and the newspaper published freely. Many were interested as a result of the report given in the newspaper.

A lecture was held about "Spiritism"; and the newspapers mentioned it as it were for spiritism. Our hall was full; almost all were spiritists. Some inter-rupted the lecture, but order was re-stored and the speaker continued unto the end. Some were interested from that day.

Now we are looking for the "Inter-national Service Convention Week." I invited the classes throughout the counlition of the Brazilian Watch Tower, acts and handbills. Now we are four, and even so we can-Now we are four, and even so we can-

There are 12,166 Portuguese in the country, and 4,558 whites of other nationalities. The remainder of the population are Chinese and mixed races.

For the last six years trade conditions in British Guiana have been deplorable. Exports in 1929 were less than twothirds what they were in 1926, and the earnings of the people have so fallen off that the imports are only about half what they were six years ago.

The Witness Work in Canada and Newfoundland

By W. F. Salter

Ever since the year 1929 Canada and Newfoundland, in common with the rest of the world, have been gradually getting deeper and deeper into the mire, both economically and socially. The number of unemployed has been rapidly increas-ing until today tens of thousands are out of work and in need.

The situation is somewhat ironical; elevators are full of grain and the peo-ple are hungry; the factories are full of goods and the people are without these necessities; the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer; and the more the so-called leaders of affairs try to adjust the situation, the more hope-less it becomes and the more it is manifest that the only hope is God's kingdom.

While the general depression has brought about much oppression which is daily, yea, almost hourly, becoming heavier and more difficult for the people to bear, it is gratifying indeed to note, and worthy of praise to the great Jehovah God, that his people are kept under the shadow of his hand, in the secret place of the Most High, and are permitted to go on day by day giving his witness in ever-increasing measure.

The witness given in Canada and Newfoundland during 1930 surpassed that of any previous year, notwithstanding the fact that 1930 was the most trying year in the history of these lands, and while the current year is one in which times are even more difficult, again it is won-derful to note that the Lord's witness is much in advance of the corresponding period of last year.

Jehovah's little army of faithful servants in this vast territory, which ex-tends for more than 4,000 miles from east to west, has been carrying on with burning zeal the work he has graciously committed to their charge and they have boldly and fearlessly given, and continue to give, his witness against this present wicked order of things.

During 1930 over 190 service conven-tions were held, at which the friends as-sembled primarily for the purpose of taking the message from door to door, meetings being held in the evenings for Georgetown, our capital, is only a lit-tle city of 57,000 population. Most of the interest in the truth centers in the colored people that make their home here. Illiteracy among the East Indians is high, yet 60 per cent of all the people can read, and in spite of the prevailing poverty we are accomplishing something and the work is spreading to the sugar and rice plantations and to the gold mines that lie back from the coast.

We are putting out more than 5,000 books and booklets a year, and while that is not much, it is considerable for us, for we are but few. There are three col-porteurs regularly in the field, and twenty workers. The average number of those who are weekly in the service is fourteen.

One of our brothers has visited re-mote parts of British Guiana. At great personal inconvenience, and sometimes in actual danger, he has crossed water-falls, traveled for days in a small open boat with the blistering sun overhead, and tramped for miles along nervers the boat captains: "In many ways the work here on the British Columbia coast is unusual and truly of a pioneer nature. Many small places are unknown so far as the maps are concerned, a number of inlets and bays being uncharted or at the best very poorly so, and one can never say with certainty where we will be on a given date. In some waters it is not safe to travel after dark, which makes our days very short, and storms, too, delay our progress. On the whole, however, our Master's guidance and protection have Master's guidance and protection have been marvelous in our eyes, and when the winds have begun to blow we have al-ways found ourselves near a good harbor, with plenty of work to keep us busy until the storm had calmed. We find the people more and more rapidly lining up either for or against the message, and we have mean friends. Conculty snear we have many friends. Generally speaking, they are very ready to listen and have a desire to investigate for them-as he, as it were, goes on in advance, breaking down prejudice and opening the way for his messengers by means of the radio. It is gratifying to note that in Canada and Newfoundland there are now Canada and Newfoundiand there are now 21 stations broadcasting the message of truth. This service has been improved beyond expression by the recently changed policy of the Society of using electrical transcripts of Brother Ruther-ford's own voice speaking forth with power and might the message of the hour hour

Nour. While we cannot fully comprehend the full extent to which this mighty instru-ment of the Lord, which he has gra-ciously placed in the hands of his people, is being used by him we do know from is being used by him, we do know from the testimony of the public through the workers that a great and a wonderful work is being accomplished. The large number of listeners-in can to some degree be appreciated by the fact that there are radio receiving sets in almost one-third of the homes in this country.

It might naturally be supposed that everyone would rejoice to hear the mes-sage and to see it going forth, but that is far from being the case, it being still true that "the darkness hateth the light," and as a consequence there has been and still is tremendous opposition to the Lord's faithful witnesses

Satan is relentless in his effort to stop the witness work, and time and time again, through his dupes the priests and preachers, he has called upon the civil authorities to molest our brethren, ar-resting them and haling them before magistrates and judges. But it is a source of deep comfort and joy to note how the Lord has almost without ex-ception given the victory to his people. Case upon case has been fought out and the verdict rendered, "Not guilty." In some parts of the land, despite the re-peated decisions of the judges, the priests continue the opposition through the police department.

This was particularly true in Montreal, Quebec, and it became so intoler-able that the Society finally decided to institute an action against the City of Montreal for damages and did so on be-half of one of the colporteurs who had been arrested there. After many months of adjourning the case the City of Mon-treal recently offered to make a settle-ment out of court, agreeing to pay $75 as damages and $50 toward costs, which offer was accepted. Marvelous indeel is it to note on every hand the signs of the rapid approach of the end of all devilish things. We see the the end of all devilish things. We see the nation being gathered together to the Battle of God Almighty, and the witness that must be made being made by God's faithful remnant class, and the promise is that when that is finished then the end shall come, the church shall be delivered and mankind released from their bond-are And so his people pray with a full and manufind released from their bond-age. And so his people pray with a full assurance of faith, "Thy Kingdom come," knowing that ere long that kingdom will be fully established in power and great glory to the vindication of his word and name.

The Witness Work in Czechoslovakia

By the Resident Manager

We here in Czechoslovakia are in one of the newest and yet one of the oldest countries in the world. Though Bohemia all of these. The brethren continue to countries in the world. Though Bohemia had its own king for many hundreds of years prior to 1620, yet in that year it was swallowed up by Austria and had no separate existence until it emerged as a republic in 1918, in the breaking up of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and took its present name.

Now it happens that in Czechoslovakia most of the consecrated live in districts where the standard of education is very low. As many of these friends are themselves unable to read or write, and often-times are living in conditions of utmost poverty, and do not have proper cloth-ing besides their frocks, they are generally not in position to perform effective work. Nevertheless, Jehovah has richly blessed his work in Czechoslovakia. The number of workers has increased by 50 per cent. German brethren (from Germany) have come in as pioneers and have done excellent work. Other dis-tricts near the German border have been worked by German classes. Very fre-quently these German brethren have been arrested, but all the cases against

But the London convention was really one of two that the British friends enjoyed at this time, for no less than 800 British brethren went to the Paris con-vention. This was a new experience, for nothing of the kind has taken place before.

Evidently it was the Lord's will that the British friends should have these experiences and should realize the unity been arrested, but all the cases against them have been satisfactorily settled. The literature for Czechoslovakia is manufactured at the Magdeburg plant. Besides German and Slovakian lan-guages, there are 745,531 Hungarians in Czecheleurelic (75,522 Poles and Should Featize the unity of those of other languages of like pre-clous faith. The journey to Paris and the sharing of the work was a life's event to many who went. It was much enjoyed and there was much enthusiasm. When the two trains which carried the discarded it, there is a determination more definitely expressed than ever to hold to the truth as it is revealed in the Lord's appointed way to serve the Lord by it, and thus to seek to be obedient in all things to every manifestation of his will

There are 260 classes and 100 sharp-shooters engaged in the work. The num-ber of brethren holding the necessary permits is 4,900. The weekly workers average 2,700, and it is now usual to have over 4,000 out on campaign weeks. During the past twelve months the classes and the sharpshooters have placed about 613,000 pieces of literature, and have given well over three million testimonies. The classes have an assign-ment of about five million homes on which to call, and the reports which are being received lead to the expectation that this year will see at least four mil-There are 260 classes and 100 sharpthat this year will see at least four mil-lion testimonies given to these homes. colporteurs in active service is 180. A considerable number of the brethren who have been engaged with us have left for other countries. We are glad to know that these who have had experi-ence in the work are now being used in countries, where the work is more diffi countries where the work is more diffi-cult. All together, 55 colporteurs have left us for service in France and other countries.

In this crowded country, particularly in England, the colporteurs and the serv-ice workers are often in very close touch one with another. Between these serv-ices, including the auxiliary colporteurs, almost every house in the island gets a witness during the twelve months.

The west coast of Scotland is difficult territory, but the barren west coast of Ireland is still more difficult; but even these, including the wildest and most barren portions, have their witness. At the other extreme the centers of the large the other extreme the centers of the large cities have had a special witness. The business houses have been canvassed by special sets of workers, and this work has proved very profitable. This army of the Lord, which includes all the true brethren, and which is al-most synonymous with those who hold permits works as one unity and with permits, works as one unity and with one desire. Forgetting the things of the past they seek to do that which the Lord has laid before them, and while there is the looking forward in faith to the fu-ture, it is not that there is a looking forward to a reward which is to come, but to the privilege of being included amongst those who are to be faithful to the ard to the end.

The outlook for the future of the work is promising. Though the majority of the people are careless as to their responsibility towards God, and thought-less about their own responsibility to-wards him, yet there is in these countries a great number of God-fearing people who are shocked at the attitude which the clergy of all denominations take towards the Bible.

Many of these will surely be touched by the witness which God is giving to himself by the books. Besides this there are greater numbers of those who are are greater numbers of those who are ready to purchase when the books are presented to them. We are confident that there is a great outlook for the books already published and for the further messages which God will surely send through his people. In the immediate future we look for-ward to the radiation of the spirit of ward to the radiation of the spirit of service which will come from Columbus. Arrangements are made for seven local conventions in the spread-out service conventions in connection with the Columbus week.

For all these privileges we thank the Lord, and with heart and mind expect, as a part of the Lord's army, to take a share with all others of like precious faith and service.

This is the land of Huss, and whoever, like John Huss, has raised his voice against the Roman Catholic church, has been an object of persecution. In 1921, out of a population of 13,613,172, the number of Roman Catholics was 10,384,-833. Protestants were put down as 990,-319. The remainder of the population was made up of Jews, Greek Catholics, Russian Orthodox and others. This will give you some idea of the problems with which we are confronted. In size Czechoslovakia is about the same as your state of Illinois. In the parts which prior to the World War were in Germany 97 per cent of the peo-ple can read and write, but in Slovakia proper, which was part of the Austrian empire, only 85 per cent can read and write, while in Ruthenia fully one-half are without education of any kind. This is what the Austrian Empire and the Roman Catholic church did to the poor Roman Catholic church did to the poor people under their care.

The Witness Work in Great Britain

By J. Hemery, Resident Manager

Sometimes it seems preferable to say "last things first" and to act accordingly. In giving a review of the British work In giving a review of the British work the outstanding feature is the visit of Brother Rutherford to London and the London convention which was held in connection with his visit. It has ever seemed to be that the last convention has been the best held, and this applies to the present case

800 brethren went to Paris, not to enjoy the pleasures of a journey and of a city strange to them, but to take a share in the work of giving a witness to the city. These things are an indication of the unity to which that part of the Lord's never in the history of the "Truth," nor of the work of the Lord as it has been disclosed to his people in the past years, has there been such a clear per-ception of the purpose of the Lord in giving the truth, nor so purposeful a disposition to do the work of the Lord as is now manifest amongst his people.

But there is a difference to be noted in respect to the recent convention: it is this, that there is no possible ques-tion that the convention recently held in London was the best and most profit which they experience, and the opposi-tion of those who love this present evil world, both of organized religion and Keller used "Divine Prophecy" as his The circumstances of the convention, of those who, having had the truth, have subject last night.

Last night, and Friday night also, several thousand conventioners remained after the concluding discourses of the day to hear the WATCHTOWER programs broadcast every evening during the con-vention from the two Columbus stations, WCAH and WAIU.
